The Embassy of India in La Paz, organized a yoga event on 21st June, Saturday, in collaboration with the office of the Mayor of La Paz. The event, celebrating the 11th International Day of Yoga, was held on a mountain cliff at a height of more than 4000 mts, at an iconic location with the huge letters 'La Paz' (bigger than 'Hollywood') written in the background. Located in the Pasankeri area of the Cotahuma macro district in La Paz City, where the sign with the letters "La Paz" are placed.

Ambassador Rohit Vadhwana welcomed all participants at the beginning of the event and thanked Hon'ble Mayor La Paz, Mr. Ivan Arias Duran for gracing the event as the Chief Guest.

Four yoga experts of Shanti Yoga guided the participants through the yoga protocol. This event was held in synchronization of the celebration of 5533 years of Andean, Amazonian and Chaco New Year. The event is symbolic of India and Bolivia's ancient traditions, and was highly appreciated by all the participants.

This was the third event after the first in Cochabamba city on 31 May which had participation of 600 people and the second one in Tiwanaku with the participation of 200 people.
